

BULK OF ESTATE OF J. P. MORGAN GOES TO HIS SON

estate of whatsoever value it may attain.

The will, it is understood, will be offered for probate on Monday.

The necessary documents, including the petition for probate, the list of personal belongings, stocks and bonds and other possessions of the deceased are now being prepared.

The Times-Dispatch correspondent was unable to reach J. P. Morgan with regard to the provisions of his father's will mentioned above, to-night, although an effort was made to do so.

Taken Heavy Insurance.
J. P. Morgan has taken policies for $4,000,000 fire insurance on his father's art collection and is negotiating for policies for $3,000,000 more in New York and $15,000,000 abroad, making a total of $22,000,000.

In well-informed quarters it was said to-day that the negotiations with London brokers for $12,000,000 insurance had been closed and that the estate was now endeavoring to close with foreign insurance companies policies for $8,000,000.

The policies for $4,000,000 are on the art collection in the Morgan library. Those being negotiated for $3,000,000 are on the collection in the Metropolitan Museum.

Owing to a clause in the fire insurance laws, this gigantic risk is spread over all the 200 insurance companies of the State, with the exception of five. Some policies are for as much as $200,000.

In order to obtain the maximum sums from the fire underwriters, the Morgan estate has agreed to assume the first $1,000,000 loss and claim from the underwriters less only in excess of that sum by any one fire.

The total amount of insurance is perhaps the largest that has ever been written.

Mr. Morgan did not consider it necessary to insure his priceless collection of paintings, sculpture, tapestries, bronzes, jewels, enamels, crystals and shrines.

WANTS FUND DIVIDED

A chancery proceedings was brought yesterday in the City Circuit Court by W. J. Shepherd, who sues for himself and for other policyholders, against the American Union Fire Insurance Company, of Philadelphia, and A. W. Harman, Treasurer of Virginia.

The bill sets forth that the petitioners are the owner of certain property in Norfolk covered by a policy of insurance in the American Union Fire Insurance Company, of Philadelphia; that the company is insolvent, and that under order of a Pennsylvania court a receiver has been appointed to liquidate the company's assets.

The bill further alleges that the company has taken charge of its business, and that the company has $25,000 in bonds deposited with A. W. Harman, Treasurer of Virginia, to secure the policyholders in this State, and asks that the court order these bonds be turned over to the receiver, and that the receiver be ordered to divide the same ratably among the policyholders in Virginia.

OBSERVE PASSOVER

Symbolic Festival of the Exodus Begins Monday Night.

The Passover, according to the Jewish calendar, begins at sunset next Monday, and continues one week. Appropriate services in the Synagogue will be held at 8 o'clock Monday evening in Beth Abraham Synagogue, and on Tuesday morning following at 11 o'clock Dr. H. C. Galt will preach on the subject, "The Passover of Liberty."

Passover, in Jewish church history, commemorates the liberation of the Jews from the bondage of Egypt. The Passover is a festival of the Jews, and is observed by the Jews in all parts of the world.

A symbolic survival in the eating of the unleavened bread during the seven-day festival of the Passover is the unleavened bread known as "matzo" and is eaten as a reminder of the Israelites' escape from the bondage of Egypt.

PROMINENT SPEAKERS AT Y. M. C. A. MEETING

Addresses Devoid of Oratory and in Nature of Experience Talks.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Lynchburg, Va., April 18.—The dominant note at this morning's sessions of the State Convention of Young Men's Christian Associations, held in Westminster Presbyterian Church, was increasing industrial efficiency in the factory and business establishments by vocational classes and by displacing deleterious social influences by helpful healthy and Christian forces and surroundings.

The speakers included business men, managers of large industrial establishments, and Young Men's Christian Association workers in industrial centers. Their addresses were devoid of oratory and flowers. They came to the point strongly and simply, and were of the nature of experience talks, summing up of results and explaining and discussing plans for effective work.

There were between one and two hundred delegates present, among them being a number of business men. The hearty singing of familiar hymns was an inspiring feature of the session. At 1 o'clock the State committee gathered in the private dining room of the Hotel Carroll for their annual dinner, and there again was manifest the same spirit in a number of short, snappy talks.

The singing of the march-hymn, "Onward, Christian Soldiers," opened the convention, and the effect of it was inspiring as the young men joined in with hearty accord under the leadership of W. S. Dunham, of Woodstock. A few moments of silent prayer followed, then two short appeals in plain everyday language were made in prayer by two men, and Rev. Oscar E. Sams, pastor of the prominent Baptist Church, read a verse or two from Scripture. Mr. Sams launched at once into a very plain and simple talk on the "Education of the Heart."

Mr. Moomaw, one of the vice-presidents of the convention, was introduced as the presiding officer for the morning session in the absence of E. R. Sheffield, the president of the convention. Mr. Moomaw urged promptness in attendance and gave the list of committees of the convention.

Two Issues Considered.
H. L. Ferguson, general manager of the Newport News Shipbuilding Company, to speak on "Industrial Efficiency Problem," was introduced. He referred to the fact that there are two issues to be considered. The white man has to get ahead, and the problem is somewhat simplified if the negroes present a more difficult problem. They do not work to get ahead. It is hard to get the negroes' attention.

The speaker mentioned many things which are fostered by the association. They had had a little training, a little help, a little education, would be master mechanics drawing good wages, and they had been back by their lack of opportunities.

Said he had another program for the counties west of the Blue Ridge Mountains, and these complicate things. He said that the Young Men's Christian Association is projecting a work in the rural sections. He gave a concise idea of the possibilities that exist in the rural sections. He said he had been born in the country, but had been unfortunate in being taken away, and he had not had the chance of having the rural rural rub.

Address by Dr. Stuart.
The afternoon session proved something of a disappointment. Dr. C. W. Kent could not be present on the program, making a strong talk on the theme, "Partners With God."

The report of Treasurer Richardson showed expenditures of $1,052 for the year, reporting a debt of $2,447.35. Pledges amounting to $1,134 were made by the delegates for the State work. H. O. Williams, the first State secretary, made a brief address, and reports were had from some of the associations.

At the dinner at the City Auditorium to-night there were 300 guests, and speeches were made by H. O. Williams, international secretary railroad department; Dr. W. L. Poter, president Wake Forest College, and Rev. George R. Stuart, of Knoxville, Tenn.

JAPANESE DEMAND FOR RETALIATION BECOMES SERIOUS

drafted the original committee substitute in the Senate, the only bill acceptable to the Japanese would be one placing all aliens on a par. A poll of the House shows that such a law could not be passed now.

In case no word comes from Washington it is regarded as certain here that a law directed almost solely against the Japanese will be passed with clauses exempting all European corporations. Only seven members of the Senate have declared themselves against such a bill.

Wilson in Close Touch.
Washington, April 18.—President Wilson kept in close touch to-day with the situation that has arisen over the proposed alien land legislation. He read with interest dispatches from Tokyo describing popular feeling against the bills, and studied the text of the pending measures as well as a synopsis of similar laws in New York and Texas.

Japan to Enforce Laws.
Because of the intimation from Tokyo that along with a demand for naturalization rights for Japanese would come a literal application in Japan of what is known as the "law relating to foreigners' right of ownership of land," the text of that law is attracting much attention here. Its application heretofore has been very loose, and there are large holdings of land by foreigners including Americans in many of the places prohibited to them. The law says:

"Article 1.—Foreigners domiciled or resident in Japan and foreign juridical persons registered therein, shall enjoy the right of ownership in land, provided always that in the countries to which they belong such right is extended to Japanese subjects and Japanese juridical persons; and provided further, in cases of foreign juridical persons, that they shall obtain permission from the Minister for Home Affairs for the acquisition of such ownership."

The foregoing provisions shall be applicable only to foreigners and foreign juridical persons belonging to the countries to be designated by imperial ordinance.

"Article 2.—Foreigners and foreign juridical persons cannot enjoy the right of ownership in land in the following districts:

"1. Hokkaido (Yezo); 2. Formosa; 3. Karafuto (Sakhalin); 4. Districts necessary for national defense. The districts coming under No. 4 of the preceding paragraph shall be designated by imperial ordinance."

It is said that under this last provision, No. 4, much of Japanese territory desired by foreign business houses and corporations has been barred to them.

Want No More Race Problems.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Washington, April 18.—Official circles are so greatly concerned over the expression of anti-American feeling in Tokyo and other large cities of Japan that none except those immediately concerned, like the California delegation, would comment openly to-day.

The situation has been complicated by the discovery that many States, including the District of Columbia, have a statute almost identical with the law proposed by the California Legislature.

In the face of this provision of the Federal government, the State Department is in an embarrassing position with reference to the California situation. It cannot, with good grace, chide the State for doing what the national government has done.

Secretary Bryan evaded all questions on the subject to-day. At the White House just this was said:

"President Wilson cannot be expected to discuss a matter which has already been settled by a number of States for themselves."

The fact that Italy has followed the lead of Japan. An intimation has been received that France, Germany and other European nations are also likely to make protests.

The situation in Japan, the California representatives in Congress to a man are in favor of the anti-alien act. They frankly acknowledge that the legislation is aimed chiefly at Japan, and justify their statement on the grounds that the foundation of a new and greater "race problem" has been laid in California, and that its growth should be immediately checked.

The President told his callers that the Federal government must of necessity refrain from interfering with California while in the process of legislation, and it is not to make known its attitude to inquiring nations until the bill is passed. He added, however, that if any impression had been circulated in Japan that the administration here had become indifferent to the developments in California, such a view would be withdrawn, and that measures are finally framed and passed.

Hopes to Retrain Action.
In the meantime the President declared that every effort would be made to keep in communication informally with the California Legislature. It is unlikely that the President will communicate his views directly or take any step that will interfere with the legislative progress, but he hopes, through members of Congress here, to do his utmost to prevent any obvious violation of treaty obligations. Should treaty rights be violated, he is hopeful that Japan will withhold judgment until the American courts have dealt with the question.

Government officials look upon the popular outbreak in Tokyo as unwarranted at this time, as the Federal government fully intends to give Japan a scarcity of the supply, but no ex-privilege accorded foreigners under the favored nation principle of its treaties.

At the same time diplomatic circles here are alive to the situation, and some of the more prominent embassies and legations have been ordered to keep their governments advised of every move. Protests from Italy, which it is believed, might be followed by more from other nations as to the restrictions on aliens, excited much comment among the diplomats, but attention was mostly drawn to the existing alliance between Japan and the great powers, which might be affected in case of breach between Japan and the United States.

While there is a sort of friendly arrangement between this country and Japan by which immigration is restricted, the Japanese population is being increased at a rapid rate, said Congressman Baker.

"Nearly 2,000 future brides have been coming from Japan annually, and the Japanese are a prolific race."

They cannot assimilate with Americans, and their presence is being felt more and more. The situation is becoming intolerable, and the sooner it is faced, the better for both nations."

Representative Church, who came from a rich fruit and agricultural district, says that in his section, one whole county is practically owned by Japanese.

"An American farmer, who suddenly finds that his only neighbors are Orientals, promptly sells out and moves away," said Church. "In this way, the Japanese landholdings increase rapidly wherever they get a foothold, and they are prompt to take advantage of the conditions which their presence creates."

Representative Kent states that the situation is one that Japan should frankly acknowledge. He holds that it is not a question of the equality or superiority of the nations, but a simple question of racial differences which should be met by Japan in a broad way.

"We want no more race problems in this country," said Kent, "and the Japanese, promptly sell out and moves away," said Church. "In this way, the Japanese landholdings increase rapidly wherever they get a foothold, and they are prompt to take advantage of the conditions which their presence creates."

New York, April 18.—Large consumers of ice are receiving notice that artificial ice, as well as natural ice, will be advanced to $5 a ton May 1. A month ago ice was selling at $3.50 a ton.

So far as natural ice is concerned, the advance in price is explained by a scarcity of the supply, but no explanation is made in the notice of advance in the artificial product.
